Short Bio

Bruce Brabec is the step-father of Liam Wood, who was killed in Olympic Pipe Line Company's pipeline rupture and explosion in Bellingham, Washington in June 1999. Bruce, formerly the Executive Director of Northwest Youth Services in Bellingham, is now retired. He and Liam's mother, Marlene Robinson, were founding members of the Trust and have testified several times to Congressional committees in support of stronger regulation regarding pipeline safety.