

U. S. Department of Transportation

Pipeline and Hazardous
Materials Safety Administration

www.dot.gov

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

Pipelines and Informed Planning Alliance (PIPA)

Increasing Pipeline Safety Through Shared Planning

Pipeline Safety Stakeholder Conference

November 15, 2007

New Orleans, LA

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

What is PIPA?

- Enterprise of Pipeline Safety Stakeholders
- Steering Committee met August 1, 2007
- Plenary and Task Team meetings & teleconferences for one year starting January 2008
 - Protecting Communities
 - Protecting Pipelines
 - Risk Communication

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

Protecting Communities

- What should stakeholders do, or avoid doing, adjacent to the right-of-way to reduce the risk to communities?
- Property Development
- Zoning Ordinances
- Growth Planning
- Real Estate Disclosure

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

Protecting Pipelines

- What should stakeholders do, or avoid doing, on the right-of-way to reduce the risk to pipelines?
- Property Development
- Easement Terms & Conditions
- Patrolling by Operators
- Environmental Stewardship

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

Risk Communication

- How should risks to communities and pipelines be communicated to stakeholders?
- Attributes of communities and pipelines that affect incident probability and consequences
- Role and Value of Transmission Pipelines
- Incident Rates at the National Level
- Format and Distribution of all three Task Team work products

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

Who Needs to be Involved?

- Participants speaking on behalf of an organization of stakeholders
 - Local Government Officials
 - Transmission Pipeline Industry
 - Property Development Industry
 - Real Estate Industry
 - Public Safety Advocates
 - State and Federal Agencies

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

PHMSA Outreach

- PIPA Steering Committee members recruiting within their organization
- 35 organizations invited to participate in PIPA being contacted by OPS PIPA Team:
 - Karen Butler
 - John Jacobi
 - Jerry Kenerson
 - Ross Reineke
 - Alex Dankanich
 - Blaine Keener
 - Joe Mataich
 - Harold Winnie
- Pipeline Safety Stakeholder Communications:
<http://primis.phmsa.dot.gov/comm/PIPA.htm>

U.S. Department
of Transportation

Pipeline and
Hazardous Materials
Safety Administration

Pipelines and Informed Planning Alliance (PIPA)

Increasing Pipeline Safety Through Shared Planning

Presented by Blaine Keener

Community Assistance and Technical Services Coordinator

202-366-0970

blaine.keener@dot.gov

U. S. Department of Transportation

Pipeline and Hazardous
Materials Safety Administration

www.dot.gov